4th MEDIA ANNOUNCEMENT

Maribor, 4th, November 2003

It is not far now till the beginning of the 2nd International IT Linux festival Kiblix 2003. Festival, which will take place in Multimedia centre Kibla and Narodni dom Maribor will offer interesting programme and an attractive accompanying programme with workshops, contests and a chat room.

Second day of the festival will be accompanied by the workshop 'Honeypot', lead by Dejan Golja from PINA Koper. At the workshop the functioning of traps for hackers will be introduced and one of the low-interaction versions Honeyd by Niels Provos will be presented in detail.

Accompanying programme will continue on Saturday when three more workshops will take place. Luka Frelih and Žiga Kranjec from LJUDMILA Ljubljana will present their own Live-Linux distribution Slix.
Simon Tutek from FERI Maribor will have a workshop about JSP (Java Script Pages) and Gregor Polančič, also from FERI, will offer an upgrade of this knowledge in the workshop »Development of Web applications with the use of JCorporate Expresso program framework«.

There are two contests organised within the accompanying programme. Hacking contest will begin on Friday, November 14. Wallpaper contest is already in progress and it is possible to participate by on-line registration at kiblix.org.

On the second day of the festival a special event will be organised. Within the frame of the public Open Source contest, organised by the Ministry of Information Society, the results of the contest will be publicly announced and a winning project will be presented.

Don't hesitate to check out festival's web site kiblix.org, where you can find detailed information on the festival's programme. New on the site are the final presentations of individual lecturers and detailed information on accompanying programme.
